

Financial management

Developed by Buddle, this provides a practical introduction to financial management, covering key principles of financial planning, budgeting and exploring income generation strategies.

The need

This workshop provides a practical approach to financial sustainability and management, equipping participants with key principles to strengthen their organisation or club's financial health. Learners will explore income-generating models, reflect on current financial planning procedures, and identify best practices for budgeting and long-term stability.

Through interactive discussions, they will review business planning, forecast budgets, and develop actionable strategies to improve financial management within their club or organisation. By the end of the session, learners will leave with clear steps to enhance their organisation's financial resilience.

Key features

- Reflect on the club or organisation's current financial planning and management procedures.
- Consider principles of financial planning and management best practice.
- Action plan how your club or organisation can improve its financial planning and management.
